

COMMANDER
LEADER'S TRAINING COURSE
UNITED STATES ARMY CADET COMMAND
FORT KNOX, KENTUCKY 40121-5117

June 11, 2007

Dear Family Members and Friends:

You are cordially invited to attend your Cadet's graduation from the 2007 U.S. Army ROTC Leader's Training Course. The graduation parade and ceremony will be held Sunday morning, the eighth of July at nine o'clock. Please come to the parking lot in front of Building 6575 on Second Dragoons Road near where it intersects with Chamberlin Street, and a shuttle service will take you to the graduation site. A reception honoring the family members and friends of graduating Cadets will be held immediately following the ceremony.

Each graduating Cadet will have demonstrated the Soldierly skills, physical stamina, leadership and motivation necessary to complete the rigorous training. More important, each graduate will depart the Leader's Training Course prepared to continue in ROTC and ultimately earn a commission in the United States Army.

I also encourage you to attend a reception at the Patton Museum on Saturday morning, the seventh of July at ten o'clock. This will be an excellent opportunity to meet course leaders and receive a course overview.

Please come and share the personal triumph of your Cadet on this special occasion. For your convenience, an RSVP mailback card has been included on the back cover of this pamphlet.

Sincerely,

Roy C. Waggoner III
Colonel, US Army
